Principal's Desk.....

It is a matter of great pride that Duliajan Girls' College has completed its 25 years. The year 2017 ended on a very high note for us with our College achieving the glorious Silver Jubilee year and pumps out much efficiency and productivity through transforming the knowledge that hibernated for these long periods in this institution. Being an institution that never rests on its laurels, we continue to progress in our mission of developing and excelling in the areas of research, student progression, innovation and best practices. IQAC has been putting in a lot of effort for introducing student-centric teaching and learning, focussed goal oriented governance and management. IQAC, an effective functioning unit through which a college fulfils its aims at quality enrichment and quality sustenance.

It is very heartening to note that large number of teachers have not only contributed to quality teaching by their innovative practices but also published quality research papers, besides participating and presenting papers in national and international seminars. My sincere thanks and good wishes to all the members of IQAC. I appreciate the hard work of the IQAC in their commendable effort and congratulate them on the publication of this newsletter.

Editorial

We are happy to inform you that we have come out with the third issue of Duliajan Girls' College Archive.

Modern life is highly complicated. With the modern scientific technological development, expectations of humans have increased. Most people are dissatisfied with life. People grumble for one thing or the other. The wealthiest also have something to complain about. In this rat race, life has become so complicated that one has forgotten to smile. The art of living has become the science of leading a modern life. The modern amenities, buildings, machines are the symbols of modern civilization. They are the symbols of man's growing power over nature and rising standard of living. So, how do man become happy? The real art of living lies in looking at the bright side of things. Lucky is the man who accept ups and downs in life easily as they come and go. But it is not easy to accept laughter along with tears. A good book, good friends and relaxing the body and mind can help us do so. Playing, exercising can relax the body. The mind can be relaxed by meditation. By practising these, one can accept ups and downs in life. The mantra to be successful in life is to stay contented and happy. Success does not mean becoming rich and powerful but to be contented and happy and at the same time, accept failure and success, which means, to accept tragedy and laughter together by looking at the brighter side of life.
